Dedication

In my youth I have been pure in heart,
If, mingling with the world, I am content
With my own modest pleasures, and have lived
With God and nature consumming, removed
From little enmities and low desires,
The gift is yours.

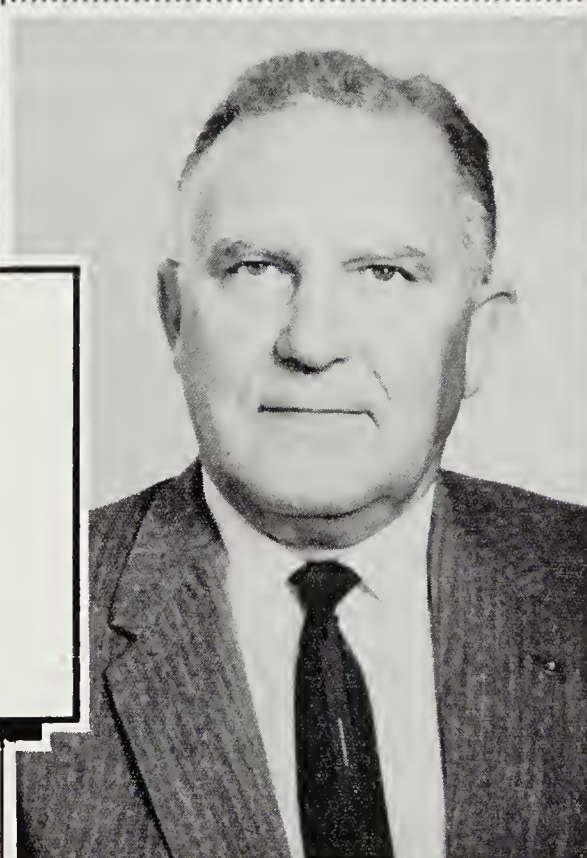

To our parents who have struggled so diligently to inspire, support and protect us through twelve years of school we owe our undying gratitude.

As a small token of our appreciation we dedicate this yearbook, the first edition of the VANGUARD.

H. K. CASSELL
Division Superintendent
Augusta County Schools

My hearty congratulations to the students and teachers at Central Augusta High School. You have entered your new building with a spirit of cooperation and industry which exemplifies the true purpose of planning, constructing, and financing any new school structure. This purpose is the education of boys and girls as the young citizens of today, who take over the positions of leadership and responsibility of tomorrow.

An institution is as good or as bad as its product in the community. The success of the students, the pride of the graduates, and the application of knowledge are the ingredients which come together to write the history hidden behind the portals of your school.

H. K. Cassell

"It is a wretch taste to be gratified with mediocrity when the excellent lies before us."

Disraeli

"It takes a long time to bring excellence to maturity."

Publius Syrus

To the class of 1962 belongs the privileged distinction of being the first graduating class of the new Central Augusta High School, and as such the first Negro High School graduates in the history of Augusta County.

Perhaps the most noble of all life's preferred genera of quests is the unrelenting up thrust toward excellence in personal and vocational or professional performance. The turgid tensions of the competitive struggle for socio-economic and geo-political survival demand a higher level of excellence than has been common in human experience.

Today's emerging seniors have the commanding opportunity to share the privileges and responsibilities of this engaging quest with competence, dignity and honor. Will you confront the future with the receptive readiness to courageously attempt, patiently pursue, and rewardingly achieve the posture of excellence?

J. Henry Scott, Jr.
Principal

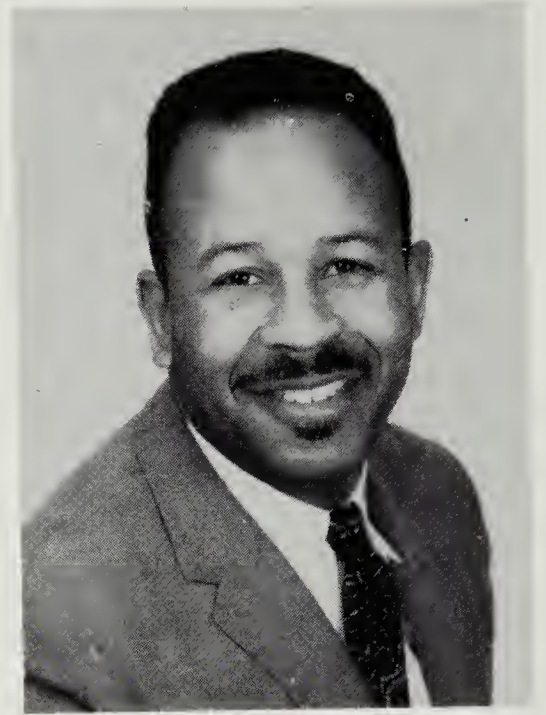

"But 'tis a common proof
That lowliness is young ambition's ladder,
Where to the climber-upward turns his face;
But when he once attains the upmost round
He then unto the ladder turns his back,
Looks in the clouds, Scorning the base degrees
By which he did ascend."

Chapter 1 THE BEGINNINGS OF GOVERNMENT IN THE UNITED STATES

The roots of American government reach deep into the past. Our system of government did not suddenly spring into being as at the wave of some political magician's wand. Nor was it pulled out of thin air by the

Our English Heritage

The French, Spanish, Dutch, Norwegians and other Europeans settled in parts of what was to become the United States. But it was the English who came in the largest numbers. And it was the English who came to control the thirteen colonies that stretched for 1,300 miles along the Atlantic coast.

These early pioneers who cleared the wilderness and fought off the Indians had to look out their own future in the New World. But they came here to search for greater freedom and a new way of life.

Founding Father of the United States, the summer of 1776 was a time of great development through hard experience. Tradition is a word we hear often. We have many points of view on the subject.

The Colonial Period

From 1607 to 1776, the period of our history known as the Colonial Period, the English colonies in North America were ruled by Great Britain. The colonies were not free to make their own laws. They had to follow the laws of Great Britain. The colonies were not free to trade with other countries. They had to trade only with Great Britain. The colonies were not free to have their own government. They had to be ruled by Great Britain.

SETTLERS AT WORK

Early American life was hard. The settlers had to work hard to make a living. They had to build their own homes and grow their own food. They had to defend themselves against the Indians and the British.

There are to be found today, though very hard to come by, some of the old laws of the colonies. These laws were well known in England before the first English colonies in America.

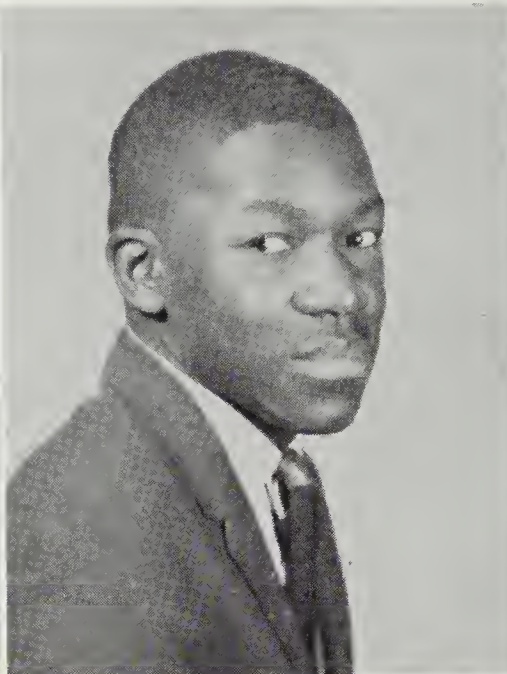

The English concept of limited government, called the Magna Carta in 1215, was the basis of the American concept of limited government. The Magna Carta was a document that limited the power of the king. It was a document that was signed by the king and the barons. It was a document that was a step towards the development of a constitution.

that each man has certain rights that government cannot injure or take away. These great principles of freedom were proclaimed in such historic English documents as the Magna Carta in 1215, the Petition of Right in 1628, and the Bill of Rights and the Act of Toleration of 1689.

The Concept of Representative Government. A third vitally important concept brought to America in English ships was that of representative government. The constitution there had been developing in England the

Class History

In September 1950 30 students entered Augusta County Training School as first graders with Mrs. Eva B. Taylor as teacher. It was a very memorable year.

Our second year began with Mrs. Gladys Moats as teacher. Here we met two new students.

Then we trampled through the next four grades with Mrs. Harden, Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Huggard, and Mrs. Tate as teachers who did much to encourage our mental and physical development.

At the beginning of the seventh grade with Mr. R. Jones as teacher, eight new students from Round Hill elementary school joined us. They were Mary Fuller, Eva Rose, Priscilla Howard, Loretta Jenkins, Dennis Brown, Owen Crawford, and Joe Stuart. That was a very happy day for us students because we then had some new friends.

We journeyed on to the eighth grade under Mrs. E. Huggard. Here we took in one new student, Thomas Baker.

We then moved on to our first year of high school, as freshmen, under Mr. E. E. Brown. He encouraged us to study hard for a brighter future.

As the time passed we began to prepare ourselves for a more successful life. Mr. E. E. Brown, our freshman teacher, continued as our sophomore teacher. Here we lost one of our best students. During our sophomore year we did many adventurous things. We worked very hard together preparing ourselves for commencement. A week before commencement we were given a party by the freshman class. We were very excited because we were moving into the city to attend Booker T. Washington High School.

Starting our junior year under Mrs. Karen Scott, who was a wonderful teacher, our junior year was the most exciting year of our lives. Many exciting things happened to us. Charles Penn placed first in the District Biology and Science Conference. Nadine Scoot placed third. About two months later Charles Penn attended the State Biology and Science Conference where he placed seventh. This year was the first time many of our classmates attended the prom.

In our last and final year we moved back into a County school, a big bright, spacious, luxurious new building. Here we were met and greeted by Mr. James H. Scott our Principal and teachers, most of whom were new to us. With new surroundings and the knowledge that we were a year older we looked forward to a bright and glorious future.

Cont.

At the time of this writing November 15, 1961, we have a well established high school with an enrollment of 130 students and a faculty of twelve.

We hate to say good-bye, Central. To us you're so true. We must be on our way, to seek the future anew.

A Trip Around the World

(CLASS PROPHECY)

In this great day and time an eager group of young people worked their way into a great, but mysterious journey into the unknown.

It is the year of 1965 when we decided to take a tour to the moon. After encountering the fascinating sights we decided to make a permanent settlement there. Two weeks after settling there, we received a telegram saying that Russia was going to land on the moon. Since we did not want to encounter communism, we decided to return to a normal life on earth.

Returning home after a long, exciting trip, we had to parachute to safety. Dennis Brown, a very ambitious engineer, manager of a Steel Company in New Jersey and Eva Rose, a very good librarian at Weslyn College in Connecticut, parachuted into a tree high above the city of Richmond. While looking down on the city, they saw Marion Johnson at Apex Beauty School, working under one of her classmates, Georgia Smith, an instructor. We turned our eyes to a well known state, Maryland. There we saw Charles Penn, one of the world's greatest biologists, dissecting a frog with a group of students.

Our eyes have become very tired, but we have to keep on looking. We are now focusing our eyes on Washington, D.C., site of one of five Negro universities, Howard. As we peep in, we see one of our classmates, Lois Miller as Music Instructor. Looking toward the Empire State Building in New York, we detected Margaret Rhodes, private secretary. From New York we traveled to the heart of California. There we see a sign, Moses Rucker, Barber and Dennis Johnson, Cosmetologist, one of the world's finest for women. Though very, very tired, we now run across an Air Force Base in Texas where we see Captain Cranberry Breckenridge and Sergeant John Henderson.

If only there were some Physical Therapists near, Nadine Scott or Sarah Woodson, we would have someone to rub our aching backs. We know this is impossible because they are just graduating from the University of Michigan. Turning our eyes toward the South, we run across one of our well-known Negro Colleges, Tuskegee Institute. Looking straight through to the Industrial Arts Department, we recognize Ernest Darcus as instructor. Our eyes are almost closed as we look across the ocean to Ethiopia. There we see Ruby Woodson as a missionary and Patricia Strother as her foreign secretary.

As evening draws nigh, Mary Fuller, a successful interior decorator, stops for an evening meal at a well-known restaurant, The Golden Slipper, where Douglas Johnson is chef. We have almost completed our tour, and are very restless, when we are disturbed by a roar of a jet plane. It is Joe Stuart sitting in the cockpit, breaking the sound barrier. Finally he has achieved his goal of becoming a pilot. After hanging in the tree for twelve hours, we finally see the Rescue Squad coming to rescue us.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of Central Augusta High School, of the city of Staunton, county of Augusta, and state of Virginia, being of sound mind and memory, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our last will and testament, hereby revoking any will or wills here therefore made by us.

First, we, the Senior Class, will our ability to succeed to the Junior Class.

Second, we, the Senior Class, leave our ability to be creative to the Sophomore Class.

Third, we, the Senior Class, leave our ability to be intelligent to the Freshman Class.

Fourth, I, Marion Johnson, will my ability to have a shape to Helen Banks.

I, Mary Fuller, will my personality to Tony Scott.

I, Georgia Smith, will my ability to wear short clothes to Wanda Scott.

I, Ruby Woodson, will my smiles to Joann Ratliff.

I, Nadine Scott, will my textbooks to any one who will accept them.

I, Margaret Rhodes, will my skill in dancing and playing Basketball to Pauline Rhodes and Dorothy Richardson.

I, Cranberry Breckenridge, will my ability to type sixty words per minute to Coleman Childress.

I, Ernest Darcus, will my ability to drive and run through red lights to Cecil Miller.

I, Dennis Brown, will my physics brain to the next physics class.

I, Charles Penn, will my seventh place in biology to Charles Perry.

I, Dennis Johnson, will my hair to Richard Williams.

I, Joesph Stuart, will my friendship with Elizabeth Jenkins to Maurice Davenport.

I, Sarah Woodson, will my new diet drug to Rev. Scott.

I, Lois Miller, will my smartness to Douglas Johnson.

I, Moses Rucker, will my ability to talk to girls to Dennis Johnson.

I, Eva Rose, will my French ability to Janet Moore.

I, Patricia Strother, will my shape to Vergia Massie.

I, John Henderson, will my energy to Winfred Casey.

In Witness whereof, we, the Senior Class, the testator, have set our hands and seal hereto this fourteenth day of November in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixty-one (1961).
